

INTRODUCTION TO YOUR NEW FSS COORDINATOR JILL ROUSH

Let's work together!

Hello! You are receiving this newsletter to let you know that we've had a change in staff. I am now the new FSS Coordinator and excited to meet and speak with each one of you! I hope you are well on your way to reaching your goals. I moved from Public Housing Management to this position and I am anxious to get started learning everything I can to help you further your dreams . One thing you can do to help me get started is to recommend this program to anyone you know that wants to pursue their dreams of education, better jobs, improving their credit scores, or eventually getting prepared to buy a home. We want people who are motivated to be self sufficient just like you! What this program offers is a chance to achieve self sufficiency, that means you can stand alone without help. It does not always mean that you will lose your housing assistance. Some individuals do so well and achieve things higher than their expectations that they move from the program while others achieve goals that improve their credit score, increase their income but still need rental assistance. Participants need to be on the Section 8 Program and must be motivated to achieve success. If you would like to call and introduce yourself I would love to hear from you. Please recommend this program and let people know the secret you know. You can build an escrow savings just by improving your situation and reaching goals. You can call me at 740-477-2514 Extension 301 or email at jroush@pickawaymha.com.
